

OVERVIEW

COMMODITY TRADING WEEK APAC TAKES A GIANT LEAP FORWARD IN 2026

Commodity Trading Week APAC has rapidly become the premier multi-commodity event in the region, bringing together the full trading ecosystem to tackle the industry's biggest challenges and opportunities.

Following a highly successful 2025 edition, the event returns to Marina Bay Sands on January 27-28th, 2026, bigger and more impactful than ever. With an expanded audience, enhanced content, and greater networking opportunities, 2026 will set a new benchmark for the APAC commodities industry.

This evolution includes the co-location of Energy Trading Week APAC expanding across two days, bringing a more diverse mix of industry leaders.

As well as deep dives into key themes such as risk management, technology, trading strategies, regulatory shifts, logistics, and sustainability, 2026 will introduce new specialist tracks, including procurement, investment, operations and trade finance, ensuring even more tailored insights and business opportunities.

Join over 2,200 of your industry peers at Commodity Trading Week APAC 2026 and ensure your place at the heart of the APAC commodity trading community.

WHAT'S NEW?

Expanding the Agenda: Enhanced Focus on Key Areas

Building on an already comprehensive agenda, 2026 will see the expansion of Energy Trading Week APAC from one day to two, alongside dedicated conferences on commodity trade finance, commodity procurement, commodity investment, and commodity operations. These additions will provide deeper insights into critical areas of the trading lifecycle, offering both attendees and sponsors more opportunities to engage, learn, and showcase solutions in a rapidly evolving market.

Scale

With the iconic Marina Bay Sands as our venue once again, Commodity Trading Week APAC 2026 is set to grow even further, welcoming an even larger audience while maintaining the high-quality mix of trading firms and solution providers. This means more meaningful interactions, high-value meetings, and business opportunities. Attendees will represent all key areas of the trading organisation, including trading, analysis, technology, data, operations, risk, compliance, and more.

Sponsor Opportunities

As a sponsor, you'll have more ways than ever to elevate your brand and engage with decision-makers. Expanded opportunities include a wider range of stand sizes, enhanced on-site branding, exclusive invite-only activities with top-tier prospects, workshops, pre- and post-event marketing, and much more — all designed to maximise your visibility and impact. More details can be found on page 3.
