WHAT'S NEW?

Scale

Commodity Trading Week Europe 2026 is set to grow even further, welcoming an even larger audience while maintaining the high-quality mix of trading firms and solution providers. This means more meaningful interactions, high-value meetings, and business opportunities. Attendees will represent all key areas of the trading organisation, including trading, analysis, technology, data, operations, risk, compliance, and more.

Sponsor Opportunities

As a sponsor, you'll have more ways than ever to elevate your brand and engage with decision-makers. Expanded opportunities include a wider range of stand sizes, enhanced on-site branding, exclusive invite-only activities with top-tier prospects, workshops, pre- and post-event marketing, and much more — all designed to maximise your visibility and impact. More details can be found on page 3.

Expanding the Agenda: Enhanced Focus on Key Areas

CTW EUROPE 2026 agenda is building on the 2025 edition and will introduce exciting new tracks and enhancements. We are launching Commodity Data Day, offering a comprehensive exploration of data-related topics, including analytics and governance challenges. Additionally, the Commodity Trading Strategies track is designed to benefit front office and trading desk professionals, covering key subjects such as quantitative and algorithmic trading, technical analysis, and more. The Commodity Trading Markets track has also been enhanced, now featuring detailed market-specific updates alongside general outlooks, with a focus on base metals, energy transition metals, oil and oil products, power and renewables, and agricultural products.
